

COPPER COVE ASSOCIATION

Associate Member Information

To help us better serve you and your family we ask that you list all the associate members living in your household. This will ensure that all associate members get the opportunity to enjoy all our amenities. The section below helps to define the qualifications for membership status.

Bylaws Article 3, Section 3 - Associate Members

The following shall be entitled to associate membership in the association:

- a) The spouse not on the deed or title and/or children of a member who also have the same residence as the member;*
- b) Any person who is a tenant or regular occupant of any unit in any multi-family residential building or guest house, inn or hotel facility within the subdivision. Associate members shall have no vote or right of notice of any meeting of membership, regular or special. Associate members shall not be required to pay an annual charge but shall be entitled to enjoy all the other privileges of membership, subject, however, to their observance of all rules and regulations governing the conduct of members;*
- c) Associate membership shall cease automatically upon termination of the status giving rise to such membership.*
